

Pharma Discount Evaluator

Navigate the Complexities of the German Pharmaceutical Market

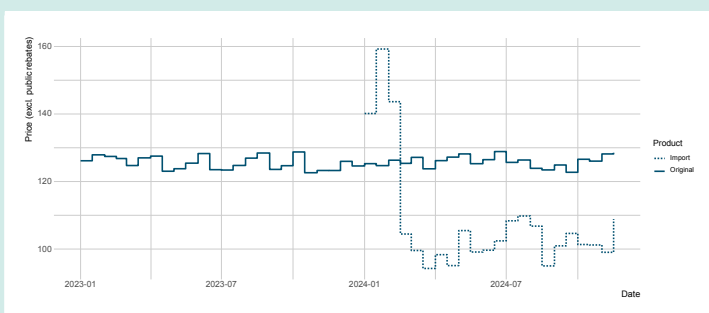

Facing complex rebate negotiations with German health insurance funds? Struggling with limited resources for in-depth data analysis?

The financial risks from evidence gaps, unverified reimbursements, and compensation claims can be daunting. Navigate these challenges effortlessly with our Pharma Discount Evaluator.

Enjoy fast data availability with immediate access to up-to-date rebate contract and prescription data from pharmacy clearing centers. The platform offers individual customization, enabling tailored analyses that address your specific needs. Powered by the scientific expertise of Evin Hub, it ensures actionable insights to drive informed decision-making and minimize risks.

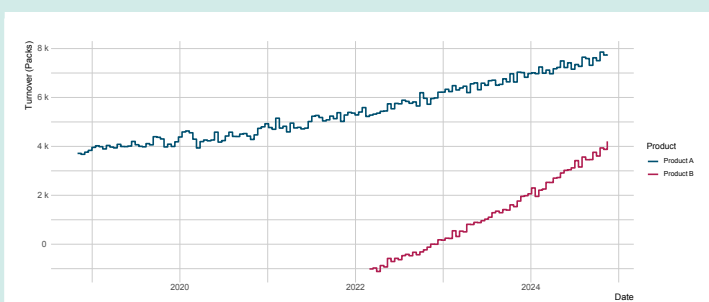

Detect relevant price differences to imports

Assess impactful pricing changes across original and import products.

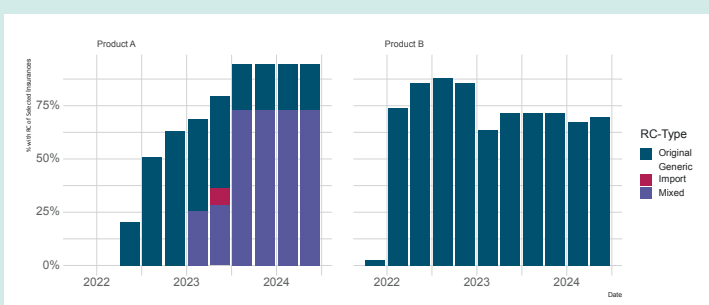

Assessment of Competitors

See growths and trends in competing products.

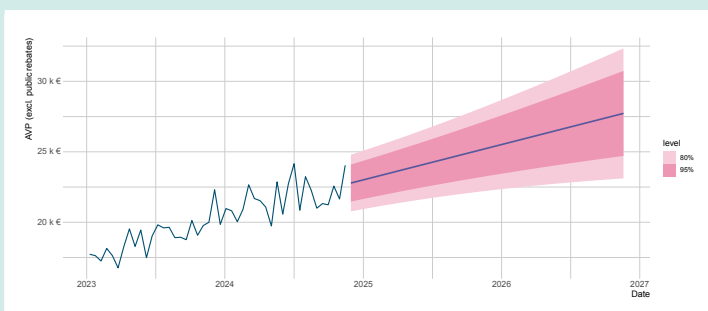

Assessment of Rabate Contracts

In-depths analyses of rebate contract development.

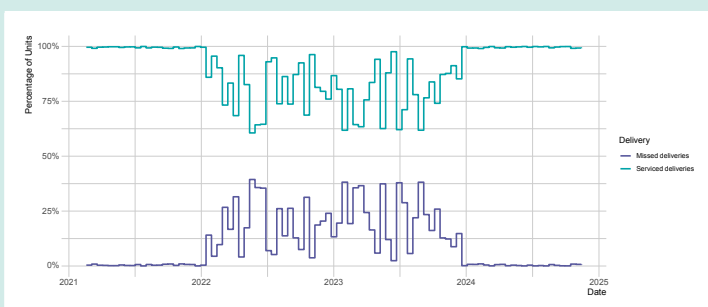

Sales Forecast

Utilize robust methods to perform sales forecasting.

Detection of pharmacy supply issues

Assess and quantify issues in pharmacy retail supply.

Empower your strategy with key features that drive precision and efficiency. With mixed price calculations, you can develop accurate pricing models based on pharmacy retail prices and volumes, while easily comparing them against generic imports and biosimilars. Billing control and volume monitoring ensure you stay compliant by tracking monthly volumes per health insurance fund, even within complex rebate structures.

Targeted sales strategies allow you to optimize your efforts, offering deep insights into prescribing patterns by specialty and region. Finally, control compensation claims by identifying dispensing errors, effectively mitigating unjustified claims from health insurance funds. This powerful tool will help you make smarter, data-driven decisions and stay ahead in a competitive market.

The perfect fit for your RWE project.

Relevant data.

Interdisciplinary know-how.

Efficient workflows.

Get in touch with us: info@evin-hub.com

